UNLOCK YOUR GREATER WHY

Qur'anic Lessons for a Purpose-Driven Life

With
IMAM ADNAN WOOD-SMITH

Award-winning educator, coach, and founder of Deeper Muslim, Imam Adnan Adrian Wood-Smith is a Harvard PhD candidate in Islamic Studies and valedictorian of his class at Dartmouth College. He is also a certified language teacher (Harvard's Bok Center), a certified Enneagram Coach, and a recipient of Harvard's Certificate of Distinction in Teaching.

Imam Adnan has mentored and coached hundreds of Muslim students and professionals through roles at Harvard Divinity School, Brown University, Ta'leef Collective, and Zaytuna College, and as President of RICMA—the umbrella organization for Rhode Island's Muslim community.

His expertise has been featured on major platforms including the "Blogging Theology" podcast (over 340,000 views) and "Towards Eternity" (over 2 million views), as well as in academic books and local media.

Do you ever wonder what your unique mission in life truly is, and how you can stay committed to it amidst daily distractions and challenges?

In this energizing, interactive presentation, Imam Adnan draws on profound lessons from the Qur'an and Islamic spirituality to help you explore how to identify your own "Greater Why," understand the internal doubts and external forces that can derail you, and learn actionable techniques to stay anchored in your mission.

Imam Adnan's personal journey and years of guidance in the Muslim community come together to offer a fresh, relatable roadmap for living with more discipline, passion, and faith. Through reflection exercises and real-life stories, you'll discover ways to reignite your confidence, transform uncertainty into motivation, and consistently align your actions with what truly matters.

Leave this session empowered to live a life you're proud of—one that's driven by clarity, conviction, and a sacred sense of purpose.
